rather than the past*

Headmaster

DR. JOSEPH MARSHALL

I am very proud of the Class of 1975. Your good works and spirits remain as an important heritage for future generations of students. I am particularly proud of our first hardback Yearbook which became a reality by your efforts.

We shall miss you, but we shall take pride as we watch your progress in life. This is a great time to be alive and to strive for worthy purposes.

I would like to wish you every success in the years that lie ahead, and may God grant each of you the wisdom to enjoy life.

MRS. BERYL ELDRIDGE

Each year pupils have tried to produce a better yearbook than that of previous years. This year, an adventurous step forward has been made in producing the first hard-cover book. On this, and your standard of production, we commend you. You have excelled the efforts of your predecessors.

As a group of pupils, you have tremendous potential ability, realize this and use it well.

The Prefects

HEAD BOY--Allen Bernardo
 HEAD GIRL--Winifred Dyer

The prefects of 1975 were fortunate in that everyone worked well together. At meetings the chair was addressed before anyone could speak, and as a result all meetings were conducted in an orderly fashion. Racial tension was slight and there were never any fights despite rumors to the contrary.

Everyone is sad to have to leave this year and all plan to keep in touch. We hope all next years prefects have as warm a relationship as we did.

HOUSE CAPTAINS

Allen Bernardo
Suzette Lespere

Under the distinguished patronage of his excellency Allen Bernardo and Lady Lespere, Morgan House has managed to proceed through the school year with fairly good results. Although we tried hard in the cultural competition we could not come near fantastic Robertson, who has all the brains. We had to settle for second place. In junior football, however, our boys took the championship without trouble as once again "yellow fever" hit the school. Sports Day was quite a different story. Throughout the day's events, Morgonians tried valiantly to seize last place from Patton but were unable to do so. Consequently, we had to settle for third place. There seems however, to be some talented Morgonians coming up and hopefully in the near future we will be able to seize the Sports Day shield from Rhodes.

PATTON HOUSE REPORT

Patton has always managed to 'reserve' last place in all it does. This year, however, due to the distinguished leadership of the girl house captain, we placed FIRST in netball. As the girl house captain went up to get the shield astonished looks could be seen being passed across the other three houses. In the intellectually stimulating Cultural Competition, during the point at which everyone was awake--the end, the final standings were announced and as usual Patton placed last, despite our efforts to pull up our green socks and get moving. Sports Day was again one of the highlights of the school year. Patton, right from the beginning, took over fourth position and no one, no matter how hard they tried, could secure this position from us. Another shock occurred when it was announced that Patton senior girls had won the overall points in the girls' gymnastics. Patton had come full circle again.

ROBERTSON HOUSE REPORT

Coming first in everything can be a real drag. That is why being in Robertson House is so fun. With only a minority of senior boys, Robertson still managed to make a valiant attempt at interhouse football with Bill Carr's "falcon stretchers!." Sports Day was quite exciting despite the fact that we were rained out. While Patton and Morgan fought for last place, we kept hot on the trail of Rhodes but by some piece of political chicanery, Rhodes was awarded first place and we had to settle for second. For the second year in a row we cleaned up in the cultural competition, proving again that Robertsonians are truly people of the world. As each violinist took his place, it could be seen that the whole of Robertson was at the edge of its seats, waiting in suspense for the results. By the time the competition progressed to the cellos, several members of our house had to be given sedatives because they were so excited. All in all a good year and we wish you luck next year.

RHODES HOUSE REPORT

This year began with Rhodes Senior girls starting with a flourish and coming fourth out of four teams in netball. Of course the intermediates' only had six players (supposed to have seven), so guess what place they came. The under fourteen team played quite well however, securing second place with hard work. Unfortunately the juniors lost their first game but did manage to come third in their division. Overall netball results ended with Rhodes in fourth place. Better luck next time girls! Rhodes came back with a victory in the gymnastics competition for the junior girls plus overall points for juniors and seniors. Now on to the merits; Rhodes is steadily holding to fourth place in close competition with Patton which is trying to take this from us, but we are hanging in there. Some house spirit was revived for Sports Day. Rhodes captured the lead from the beginning and drove down all other houses, getting all the cups and shield. As far as genius is concerned, Rhodes has it all, but it is unfortunate that they did not prove themselves in the Cultural Competition. They only gained second place. Our senior boys started well, coming second in the senior football competition, but what a defeat in basketball! They tried hard!!! All in all, Rhodes seems to have had its ups and downs and we wish the house good luck in the future.

The one girl's team which should be commended for the amount of time and work that they put into their practices, is the gymnastics team. Although, they did their best at the senior girls' gymnastic competition, thanks to the excellent coaching of Mrs. Ward, their lack of experience at public appearances seemed to be their downfall.

Having done basketball for only two years, the senior girls' team showed great improvement. Our greatest victory was over Chaffee with a score 24-16, a team we had never beaten before. At the tournament, however, the tables were reversed with Chaffee beating us in the first game. The girls' down fall again appeared to be their lack of experience in appearing in front of a big crowd.

This was the juniors first year at basketball and thanks to Miss Read's coaching they showed great improvement with each game they played. Their most exciting game was against Bermuda High School, the winning goal being scored in the last minute of the game. At the tournament, Mount St. Agnes beat them as our team was somewhat disoriented on a full size basketball court.

The growing interest in basketball and the girls increasing skills offer hope for future seasons.

FOOTBALL

This year the Junior and Intermediate football teams were quite successful. Having a large number of boys from which to choose made the standard much higher. The senior team was another story. Having only nine boys in the fifth form the team ended up being composed mainly of third and fourth formers. However, under the experienced leadership of Mr. Young they managed to finish the season.

BASKETBALL

FIRST ROW: R. DeMoura, S. Murray-mgr., C. Gaume, SECOND ROW: G. Peters, M. Ross, S. Marshall, W. Carr, A. Bernardo.

The boys' basketball team deserve a lot of credit for having the nerve to play a game against another school. It was quite a shock when it was announced they didn't lose all of their games, then it was explained that this was due to the fact that one game was forfeited in their favor. Mike Wagner deserves a gold medal for being able to put up with them. A typical practice consisted of various games. The most enjoyable of these was seeing who could pull down the most of the other guys' pants. A close runner-up to this game was seeing whose pants would pull up the farthest. After 'practicing' this for 1 1/2 hours, the last half hour of practice was devoted to shooting baskets. These practices explain why they were such a good team.

They were never lacking in support as certain members of the school always went to each of their games. Their most embarrassing loss was against Mount St. Agnes. The score cannot be quoted here as the editor of the yearbook is also a member of the basketball team.

They did improve with experience and at the end of the season they slaughtered the staff. We can't mention this score either as one of the teachers helping with the yearbook played on the team and the other was the coach.

BOY'S GYMNASTICS

Gymnastics does not seem to be as popular among the boys as it is among the girls. When the first practice was called quite a few boys turned up, but at the second practice this number had dropped considerably with all of one boy showing up. This person, who will remain un-named for the moment, practiced diligently everyday after school and during his lunch hours. Mrs. Ward and Mr. Smith gave up valuable time to offer their assistance. This person was entered for the Bermuda Senior Boys' Gymnastics Championships even though a full team is suppose to consist of at least six members. The coaches felt this person had the ability to compete as a one man team. He placed sixth over-all in the floor exercises but dropped some in his vaulting, due to lack of practice. When called on to do a short arm, something he had never heard of before, he proceeded to do a long arm with bent elbows and landed full force on his wrong end. Being the sportsman he is, he took this defeat laughing. In the future it is hoped that other boys will show some interest in this sport as this person is leaving us this year.

cross-country

Dr. Marshall and his cross country team deserve much recognition. They practiced almost every day and this practice payed off in the Bermuda competition. Although they did not place first they showed great stamina and with continued hard work, next year may present better results.

Patricia Sims, Donna Mello and Chris Brown 'cleaned up' in the schools' badminton tournament. The tournament was the first of its kind and we are proud to announce our school placed first overall. Patricia and Donna then went on to capture the girls' doubles title. The coach, Mrs. Butterworth, could be seen beaming with pride as the final results were announced. She is to be congratulated for the time she spend at practices with the team, which obviously paid off. The other members did just as well and were defeated in the finals by their fellow team members. Mrs. Butterworth is now coaching a tennis team which we hope will be just as successful.

The Chess Club has been practicing every possible free moment in hopes of overwhelmingly winning the upcoming chess tournament between Bermuda Schools. The team is run by Mr. Nicoll-Griffith who is working hard in hopes of pulling his team through. If they do not win there will be quite a few annoyed prefects who spend gruelling hours and precious energy in chasing them during our recesses and lunch hours only to be told, almost mockingly that they have permission to stay in.

URSA FACTA editor Linda Smith rushing to do an on-the-seen report.

The Newspaper was begun last year by a group of 4th year students with Miss Falcon as supervisor. This year Mr. Kreller and Miss Grinstead have taken over her tedious job. URSA FACTA has begun its slow journey upwards and with each issue improvements can be noted. The questionnaire seems to be the highlight of each issue. The "Dear Gertrude" letters leaves the whole school wondering who in their right mind would ask her for advice. The yearbook staff wishes to take this opportunity to wish the future staffs the best of luck.

GRUB DAY

Despite its name this day has nothing what-so-ever to do with food. The yearbook staff was suddenly struck with the idea of letting the school come in everyday clothes for a minimal fee. Of course most of the students came in clothes which were more suited to a coronation or something of that sort. The cunning staff thought they had outsmarted the whole school by devising a scheme to wear the school uniform, but we figured it out. We thought we had a good idea to get out of school uniform and forget about it but the staff came up one better and we are not ashamed to admit defeat.

1974-1975 seems to be a year to remember. Although all years have a time one would like to erase from one's memory, the good times far out number these. It is a sad but exciting time as the Fifth Year must say good-bye to all their childhood friends and a secure school life to face the unprotected world. We would like to thank all those staff responsible for pushing us forward when we preferred to relax. As a closing thought, we would like to say "farewell to you and the youth we have spent with you" as the year has ended, and all good things must come to an end.

After looking through this book you have probably realized that it bears little resemblance to the Warwick Academy Yearbooks put out in the last three years. Some will inevitably leaf through the pages with a somewhat disbelieving look on their face. True, tradition plays a major role in the life of Warwick Academy, but without change there is no progress. Our failures and mistakes have not been neatly excluded from the book as in previous years for all these experiences help to make up part of our life at Warwick Academy.

Mr. Kutsko, who is not paid for supervising the production of the Yearbook, has devoted large amounts of time in making this Yearbook possible. Without him, it would never have been so successful.

We would also like to thank Miss Way and Kim Mulder--two other individuals who gave large amounts of time in working for the yearbook.
